“ Awoke one morning, come to find Life, again has been unkind Taken one that we all loved 2 days to christmas... keep thinking of Christmas eve... and she's not here The family might fall apart we fear But our faith is what will keep us strong Even when life does treat us wrong She was here and gave her best She's done with the pain and now can rest And we should be thankful for what she's done One life ends... another's begun And although we'll miss her smiling face We know she's in a better place Memere, we love you and you gave us hope The fact that you're happy will help us cope You were so strong and never gave up Even when the pain seemed way too much You told us you were fine... and it'd be ok And it seems like I saw you yesterday Driving to your house when you were in Maine My Dad had told us that you were in pain But when you talked you acted like nothing was wrong And our time there didn't seem very long But I was glad we got the chance to see your face And we wanted to go to Florida at your winter place But we couldn't get the money... but we really did try And Leavitt was almost there the night that you died Same thing with Donna... but they missed you by hours Meanwhile I'm in Maine, drenched in these rain showers Thinking they're the tears of all that have lost you Knowing you're not there... but we give all of our thoughts to Everytime you have helped us and gave us advice On little things we could improve in this short lived life Just know that we'll miss you, and you and Dad are my heroes I love you so much... I do wish you were here though... RIP Memere 12/23/06
