“ Although Cheryl and I took different roads in life, the connection we had could never be broken. We shared so many memories. Graduating High School together, starting our families, and going back and graduating from college together. Cheryl and I would take a road trip once a year. First stop was Jimmy's Diner for breakfast. Then we would drive to New Hampshire along Kangamangus Highway and to Fryeburg Fair. I was so hoping we could make that trip one more time. I am happy we were able to reconnect and spend a little time together. She was a great friend and will be missed by so many. My sympathy and prayers are with your family and friends. Love, Diane
