“ The first time I met Rick was at Wal-mart he worked with my daughter Heather and she introduced us. A few months later I got to know Rick better at the bowling alley. He always had a good night bowling, scores didn't matter much just being there having a good time. I once read this -God brings different people into our lives at different times. Some for long periods and others for short times, each leaving some of them with you. Rick left with me a big smile and a brighter out look. I can only hope that what I left with him was as big and as bright. I will miss Rick and I am so sorry for your loss. Michael Edgecomb Sr.

“ I meet Dad Rick when I was 13, He had a heart of GOLD, he would help anyone and everone, But you didn't want to piss him off, he enjoyed spending time with his family, speacail his grandbabies. He was a loving caring persons, he was a freind to all. I know he was mine. He was there durin the good and the bad, he taught me how to grow and to love. That will always stay with me, and taught to my son and grandbabies. He taught us all who would come in touch with him he just had that speacail touch. Well the time has come your job is done here on earth but it will go on in all of us who has come in contact with you, Its time for you to go rest in piece now, your job was well done. You will be sadly missed.

“ My Darling, The Last 26 years have ben a great adventure for me. You taught me so much over the years. You taught me to love again, and trust again. You gave me unconditional love. Not many men would tie themself to a woman with a young child, much less a very sick child, but you did. Somehow you showed me that even in the worst and darkest of times, there is a light. All I needed to do was be patient and believe and eventually all would be alright. Right now I don't think my life will ever be alright again, but as much as I hurt now I know that you are watching over me and will help me make it through like you always did. Thank-you for a wonderful, exciting, and, at times, challanging life. I know that without the challanges it would not of been any fun. I will do my best to keep all the promises I made to you. I will love our babies and try to help guide them in life. I will look to the time when we will be together again in God's kingdom. Until then please watch over me and help me on my walk to you. And give me a nudge in the right direction when I need it. I will probably need it often. I love you with all my heart and I always will. I miss you so, but I know that you are no longer in pain and gives me great relief. Until we are together again I will always be yours. Yours now and forever, Your loving wife, Linda

“ Rick, my dad, was a very special man in my life. he and my mother meet when I was 6 years old and got married when I was 10. He raised me as one of his own this ment alot to me. As an adult I had gotten myself into alot of trouble but no matter what I did he forgave me and loved me as much as he did when I was a child. Without him I feel so alone intill I sit in quiet and by myself, I then hear him telling me of how proud he is of me and staying clean even in this time of sadness as well as he tells me he will always be here for me I just need to sit and ask for him and to listen to my heart. Rick, in his 70 years of life has touched so many people in a special way, in my life he has touched me in an extremely special way and this will carry on through out my entire life.
