“ Chico truly was a man of courage....it takes a man of courage to make the right decisions even when it is easier to make the wrong ones. Chico was not shy about the wrong ones he had done in the past however he took those past experiences and allow then to make him a better person... the love he had for others shone through especially for his family. He would often show me pictures of "his daughter, his boys " and his beautiful wife and the pride that he had shone through him was priceless.

Often when I was not in the best of moods, it would not take me long after being around Chico to smile and laugh as he always had that touch on people. I was so blessed to have met and worked with him....I was blessed to have him as an earthly friend, the only thing that has changed is now he is my heavenly friend. Thanks for the beauty of your presence Chico:)

“ God gained another extraordinary soul and inspiring angel.

I am extremely grateful to have had and known Robert Cedre Jr. and above all call him my friend, confidant, mentor, and most importantly my family.

Chico was a man of integrity and strength. He was with me during one of my hardest times. My angel then and saviour. He was a man truly blessed by the Lord and given a gift, wisdom, compassion, and love and shared it to influence others.

I know deep within my heart he is not gone he will still be with me forever. He simply achieved what he came to this world to do. I am blessed and happy that I got to be part of his path.

He is truly with the Lord now. Putting in a good word for all of us he Cherished in his life.

I will miss you deeply. I can still hear you saying "Sarah Baby". So Chico my luv fly high. Continue to watch over us and keep us safe. CHICO BABY I promise April Collins and I will not disappoint you. And we will still honor and continue our traditions.

“ I've know Bob for 40+ years in many capacities. We hung out together in Lewiston, he dated my younger sister a few times, we sat up at Davis Mountain and shared dreams and disappointments and wondered about our futures. He was a sharp dresser and a natural born salesman and honed those skills at the dress shop on Lisbon Street. Many years later we would meet again as he recovered from dark days of his life as he tried to inspire those with far to many regrets.
Sending sympathies to all his family and loved ones.

“ I worked with Bob many years ago. And more recently, each time I ran into him at the home shows, we would reminisce about the old days. But more often, I enjoyed hearing about how well his family was doing. I would always think to myself after our encounters "I hope I have as much fulfillment in my life when I get older, as Bob does." Godspeed my friend!

“ I met Chico when he was on the run from the law, he lived in Salt Lake City Utah and Lauri and I flew out there one winter to visit we stayed about 6 weeks. I was able to experience life in another part of the country as he opened his home to us when he didn't have to and chico brought us out one evening to a night club and BB King was playing there it was quite the time when i left urah i went back home to Connecticut and then back to Lewiston about 9 months later i was in the Ritz Cafe in Lewiston and 2 men walked in and came towards me and picked me up and sat me on a bar stool and said chico is going on trial in boston mass and we will be transporting you down to testify on his behalf I found out later the two men were jimmy Gervais and Phil Destefano it was never a dull moment and years later we reconnect in the Halls of AA....God Bless you Chico i am so happy you had a beautiful family and was able to enjoy every moment of them clean and sober. You give people hope that they can have a better life if you want it bad enough
